Election Collage Project

Section 1: Four Corners

Choose 4 projects from the choices below to put in each corner of your project. Make sure you use up the entire space on your college with pictures, charts, diagrams, and writing.

Politician's Life – Some politicians write books about their life's work. Make a mini jacket/ poster for a political candidate of your choice (President, Governor, Judge, etc.) Include a one paragraph explanation of an important issue to this politician.Current Issues – Research either Donald Trump's or Hillary Clinton's stance on 5 issues. Create a bumper sticker for each issue convincing why they should be supported.Political Party Mascot – Research symbols for the Democratic, Republican, or other political parties. When was it created? What is its history? What form of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol? This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbols at leader s – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research ord egovernor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Current Issues – Research either Donald Trump's or Hillary Clinton's stance on 5 issues. Create a bumper sticker for each issue convincing why they should be supported.Political Party Mascot – Research symbols for the Democratic, Republican, or other political party the softice? Who serves next in line to the governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Current Issues – Research either Donald Trump's or Hillary Clinton's stance on 5 issues. Create a bumper sticker for each issue convincing why they should be supported.
political candidate of your choice (President, Governor, Judge, etc.) Include a one paragraph explanation of an important issue to this politician.each issue convincing why they should be supported.Political Party Mascot – Research symbols for the Democratic, Republican, or other political parties. When was it created? What is its history? What form of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol?Government – Pick a country and research its current government. Describe the type of government. Who is the current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor belongs to, how long the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	Politician's Life – Some politicians write books about	Current Issues – Research either Donald Trump's or Hillary Governor, Judge, etc.) Include a one paragraph explanation of an important issue to this politician.Government – Pick a country and research its current government. Describe the type of government. Who is the government. Describe the type of government. Who is the current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	their life's work. Make a mini jacket/ poster for a	Clinton's stance on 5 issues. Create a bumper sticker for explanation of an important issue to this politician.Political Party Mascot – Research symbols for the Democratic, Republican, or other political parties.Government – Pick a country and research its current government. Describe the type of government. Who is the current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Government – Pick a country and research its current government. Describe the type of government. Who is the current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Gempatian of the questions above.	political candidate of your choice (President,	each issue convincing why they should be supported.
Political Party Mascot – Research symbols for the Democratic, Republican, or other political parties. When was it created? What is its history? What form of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol? This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.Government – Pick a country and research its current government. Describe the type of government. Who is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an texplanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	Governor, Judge, etc.) Include a one paragraph
Democratic, Republican, or other political parties.government. Describe the type of government. Who is the current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office?When was it created? What is its history? What form of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol?government. Describe the type of government. Who is the current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office?This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Woting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	explanation of an important issue to this politician.
When was it created? What is its history? What form of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol? This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs s	Political Party Mascot – Research symbols for the	Government – Pick a country and research its current of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol? This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Ieader chosen? How long can the leader hold office? Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	Democratic, Republican, or other political parties.	government. Describe the type of government. Who is the <ul> <li>a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol?</li> <li>This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.</li> <li>State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.</li> <li>Voting- Research these dates and explain why they</li> <li>Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.</li> <li>Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.</li> </ul>	When was it created? What is its history? What form	current leader? What is his or her official title? How is the
This part of the collage should include the name of the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	of media did it first show up in? Explain. Then create	leader chosen? How long can the leader hold office?
the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	a new symbol. Why did you pick this as your symbol?	Compare and contrast the system of government to the US. well as a paragraph answering the questions above.paragraph answering the questions above.State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	This part of the collage should include the name of	Create a Venn Diagram to show your comparison. Include
State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	the party, its current symbol and your new symbol as	at least 5 facts from each system of government as well as a <ul> <li>the qualifications a person must have in order to run for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor has been in office, and one fun fact about the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.</li> <li>Voting- Research these dates and explain why they</li> <li>billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.</li> </ul>	well as a paragraph answering the questions above.	paragraph answering the questions above.
for this office? Who serves next in line to the governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	State Leaders – Who is the governor of NC? What are	Campaign Ads – Keep track of the campaign signs and <ul> <li>governor? What is that office called? Research our current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor has been in office, and one fun fact about the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.</li> <li>Voting- Research these dates and explain why they</li> </ul>	the qualifications a person must have in order to run	billboards you see on the road, around town, and in your <ul> <li>current or next Governor and name the lieutenant governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor has been in office, and one fun fact about the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.</li> <li>Voting- Research these dates and explain why they</li> </ul>	for this office? Who serves next in line to the	neighborhood. If you can't find any, try looking them up on governor, the year the governor was elected, the political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor has been in office, and one fun fact about the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	governor? What is that office called? Research our	the internet. Keep a log to record: Who the signs are for, political party the governor belongs to, how long the governor has been in office, and one fun fact about the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	current or next Governor and name the lieutenant	which race they ran in, any colors, letter styles, or other governor has been in office, and one fun fact about the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	governor, the year the governor was elected, the	characteristics that stand out to you, where the signs seem the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures with this information.explanation of the questions above.Voting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	political party the governor belongs to, how long the	to become very numerous. Provide several pictures (either with this information.Electoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 factsVoting- Research these dates and explain why theyElectoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	governor has been in office, and one fun fact about	drawn or printed from the Internet) and include an Voting- Research these dates and explain why they         Electoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts	the governor. Write a paragraph and include pictures	explanation of the questions above.
	with this information.
are important in the history of voting. Create a about the Electoral College. Then find the 5 states with the	Voting- Research these dates and explain why they	Electoral College – Create a crossword puzzle from 5 facts are important in the history of voting. Create a	about the Electoral College. Then find the 5 states with the timeline with the important dates: 1789, 1868, 1870, least number of electoral votes. How many electoral votes	timeline with the important dates: 1789, 1868, 1870,	least number of electoral votes. How many electoral votes 1920, 1924, 1964, 1971. does NC get? Do you think that it is a lot or a few Is the	1920, 1924, 1964, 1971.	does NC get? Do you think that it is a lot or a few Is the Electoral College system of electing a president fair? Explain		Electoral College system of electing a president fair? Explain all in a paragraph. Include a map of this year's election		all in a paragraph. Include a map of this year's election results.		results.

Section 2: Center of your Collage

Creatively include each of the following in the center of your collage. Don't forget as you are working on this section that presidential elections are held every 4 years!

Voting for/ Becoming President- creatively show	Political Issues- research a major issue that concerns
what year you will be able to vote for the first time,	the people of the United States (such as military and explain what year you could be elected president	(war), healthcare, jobs, women's rights, energy, of the United States. Also explain the qualification	nuclear power, taxes, environment, gun control, free necessary for you to be president of the United States	speech, etc.) As a voter, explain what issues are important to you and why. As a president, what issues would be most important to you and why.

*** On the back of your project please write the following sentence and sign your name: I promise that I have invested quality time in completing this project. ***